

Change the sentences to the interrogative form.

1. My wife has a meeting with her friends every Saturday evening.

2. The Game of Thrones makes people interested in History.

3. The dog plays with his toys all the time.

4. The airplane flies smoothly.

5. We agree on many things but not on religion.

6. They own a gigantic property in the country.

7. I live my life as I please, not answering to anyone.

8. Lawyers have to be in court almost every day.

9. The doctor prescribes every med we need.

10. I want to be a businessperson just like my father.

11. I do my best at my studies but sometimes I fail.

12. The lack of love in the hearts of people does terrible things.

13. The way we are living has its ups and downs.

14. The murderers feel nothing when they kill people.

15. Violence has increased recently.

Answers

1. Does my wife have a meeting with her friends every Saturday evening?
2. Does the Game of Thrones make people interested in History?
3. Does the dog play with his toys all the time?
4. Does the airplane fly smoothly?
5. Do we agree on many things but not on religion?
6. Do they own a gigantic property in the country?
7. Do I live my life as I please, not answering to anyone?
8. Do lawyers have to be in court almost every day?
9. Does the doctor prescribe every med we need?
10. Do I want to be a business person just like my father?
11. Do I do my best at my studies but sometimes I fail?
12. Does the lack of love in the hearts of people do terrible things?
13. Does the way we are living have its ups and downs?
14. Do the murderers feel nothing when they kill people?
15. Does violence have increased recently?